Easy climate protection with double the impact! This is how myclimate «Cause We Care» works in a nutshell. Everyone is involved: you, your business, your guests and customers. Because together you can make a big impact, globally and locally.

Implement the «Cause We Care» mechanism in your company and give your customers the chance to push forward climate protection and sustainability together with you.

How «Cause We Care» works

Your customers' contribution

As a Cause We Care partner, you give your customers the option of making a voluntary contribution to climate protection during their booking. With this contribution to climate protection, you enable your customers to take responsibility for the emissions generated by the activity they are booking and actively contribute to reducing their environmental footprint in a simple way: a myclimate climate protection project will be financed to an extent that equates to their emissions. Your customers' climate protection contribution is channelled into your company or institution's dedicated Cause We Care fund.

You match the amount

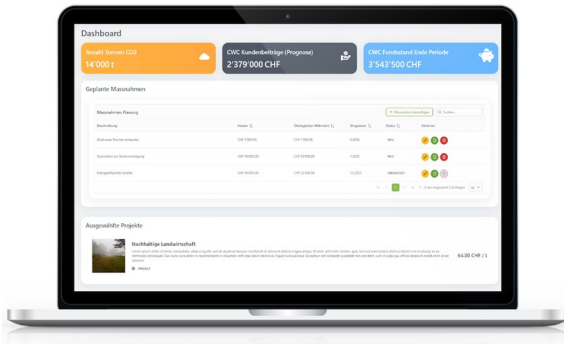

At the same time, you match the amount, which also goes into the Cause We Care fund. This fund enables climate protection both globally and on a tangible local level:

half of the customer contributions go towards high-quality myclimate climate protection projects. The other half remains available to you to provide additional financial support for your company or institution's own sustainability measures. With this allowance and your contribution to the fund, you can finance measures of your own, implement existing projects and support ones currently being planned.

Small means with a big impact

Effective climate protection often starts with small projects and can develop into pioneering large-scale ones. Cause We Care gives you the means to do so. This benefits you, your guests and the climate – meaning that future generations will still be able to enjoy our breathtaking natural landscapes.

We created a simple solution for climate protection – so you don't have to!
